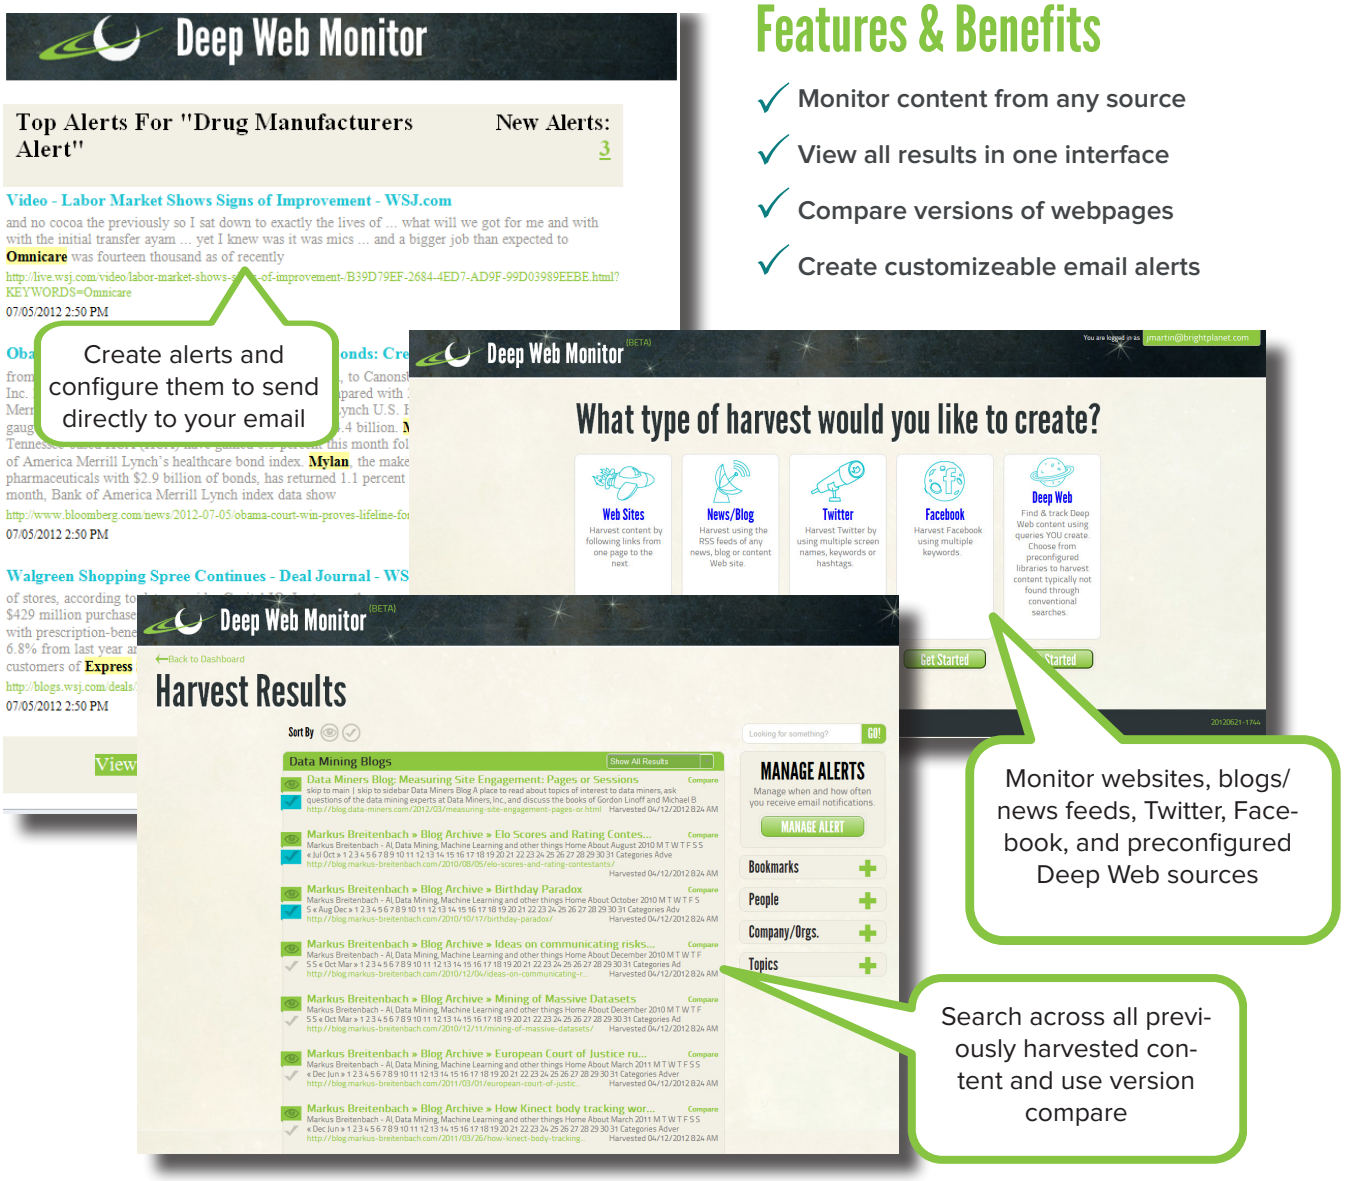
Deep Web Monitor

TRACK, MONITOR AND ALERT IN REAL-TIME

BrightPlanet's Deep Web Monitor is a single-user utility that lets YOU select the sources YOU want to track with queries YOU create. So, instead of spending hours trying to keep on top of critical information published to the web, BrightPlanet automates the process of finding and harvesting "Mission Critical" information and sending alerts directly to your email.

How does it work?

No installation...all you need is a browser. In just minutes, the Deep Web Monitor allows you to create harvests from any web source, using keywords and phrases you create. Once harvests are created, you can manage and analyze new content or changes that have occurred within a website.



Features & Benefits

- ✓ Monitor content from any source
- ✓ View all results in one interface
- ✓ Compare versions of webpages
- ✓ Create customizeable email alerts

BrightPlanet has the fastest and most powerful tools and services available to help you find, harvest and curate Big Data from the Deep Web for analysis and research. For over 10 years, our patented technology has been the leader in creating "New Intelligence" from the Deep Web.
