Heller campaign donations surge to $1.1 million in 4th quarter

Summary: Sen. Dean Heller's 2012 campaign picked up the fundraising pace significantly in the last quarter of 2011, pulling in $1.1 million. It was almost double what he had raised the previous quarter and enough to tie his challenger, Rep. Shelley Berkley, who outraised him almost 2-to-1 the quarter before.

New Democratic challenger in Senate race doesn't worry Berkley

Summary: The Senate is expected to vote Thursday on the nomination of Richard Cordray to lead the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, the office created as part of the Wall Street reform legislation passed in 2010. The next day, Sen. John Thune (R-S.D.)—who has threatened to filibuster any nominee unless the agency is significantly weakened—will be holding a fundraiser for his leadership PAC, Heartland Values PAC, in New York City.
